

Southeastern Squash Racquets Association

October 2004

Hello SESRA:

Over the past three weeks, I've been visiting with squash members at Windy Hill, Concourse, and the Piedmont Driving Club with the purpose of discovering common interests.

- Results of town meetings:
 - Players want to build a sense of an Atlanta squash community, and feel SESRA should be instrumental in that process.
 - Players want better communication with them and more coordination and interaction between the clubs.
 - Players need to see the value of SESRA when we ask them to join.

- Ideas for SESRA:
 - An interclub playoff (see below)
 - A newsletter (you're reading it)
 - Referees clinics (working on it)
 - An annual end-of-season banquet (to be discussed further)
 - A stronger and more active volunteer organization (underway)

Let me know what else occurs to you...

Hardie and Villari were also competitors in the MSRA doubles venue while Mitha, Rumpler, Burton, and White played in the over 50s doubles draw.

- Below find a letter from Richard Millman, former Concourse pro. He is seeking support for international Master's play.

Dear Friends in Squash,

As you all know, Masters Squash has recently enjoyed a world-wide surge in interest and participation. Masters squash players are our most stalwart supporters and frequently have tremendous energy available to help develop our sport. Quite naturally these players are seeking any opportunity to be involved in the game they love...

...Under the auspices of the USSRA I am developing a USSRA Masters sub committee whose function will be to encourage and promote all masters squash events. Some of these events are already tremendously successful in their own right such as The Atlanta Grand Masters and the Eastern States in New York and I am sure others. What I am seeking is a regional representative from each area who would like to help organize and develop both Masters Team and Individual events, and any other programs that this extraordinary group of squash players maybe interested in developing. I would like to appoint on person from each area to represent the interests of men's and women's masters players. I am looking for approximately 5 people to form the national sub committee, each of who would liase with perhaps four or five district reps from the district associations.

Our first job is to organize an inter area competition with teams of 9 men and 6 women. The Canadians want a competition in the Spring so I am hoping that New York (my area) and perhaps two other representative teams might be able to go up to Ontario and honorably represent the USSRA against the Canadian representative teams...

...If you could ask them to contact me as soon as possible (email: ricahardo@yahoo.com) I would be much obliged (especially as the Canadians are breathing down my neck!).

Yours in Squash,

Richard Millman

Hope this newsletter is of interest. Let me know what you think.
